ASSOCIATION FOR CHILDHOOD EDUCATION

"A. C. E." has a large membership on this campus. The local chapter participates in many activities which are designed to better acquaint elementary education students with the teaching profession.

In addition to monthly meetings, the local group also has two book sales, one in the fall and one in the spring, cooperates with the education department in sponsoring Elementary Education Day, and sends delegates to a state workshop.

The activities of the local chapter are not limited to our own campus, however. A. C. E. is an international organization which has its headquarters in Washington, D. C. Operating on an international scale, A. C. E. is not closed to only those who are teachers or who are preparing to become teachers — it is open to any person who is interested in the education of children. The group contributed to the furthering of an international improvement of the teaching profession by having a project devoted to U.N.E.S.C.O. and also by sending delegates to the international study conference. The local chapter sent seven delegates to the conference which was held in Atlantic City, New Jersey.

Just as one of the main functions of this college is the preparation of teachers, that of Kappa Delta Pi, the education honorary, is to assist in that preparation through the encouragement of high professional standards. Kappa Delta Pi recognizes outstanding achievement in the field of education and emphasizes the ideal of worthy service to the profession of education.

In order to accomplish its aims, Kappa Delta Pi was active throughout the year. In the fall, the organization sponsored a panel discussion to acquaint freshmen with college life; and, in the spring it sponsored another panel discussion entitled "What Next?" designed to help seniors gain a clearer, overall view of the education profession. Also Kappa Delta Pi gave a Christmas party for less fortunate children, sponsored a talk by a well-known educator, and gave financial help for High School Senior Day. This year Kappa Delta Pi added a new activity to its agenda by giving a breakfast for outstanding sophomores.

ANGEL FLIGHT

"Left . . . left . . . was the candence heard by spectators as Angel Flight marched in review. "Double to the rear—march!" brought a full view into focus as the red, white, and blue uniformed members performed with precision and grace.

Composed of undergraduate women, Angel Flight is a social group as well as an auxiliary of the local chapter of Arnold Air Society. Once a week regular business meetings were held and drills, called by the flight leader, were numerous and frequent.

Although stressing excellence of performance and quality of exactness, the group was also active in social activities on campus. Trade parties with Sabre Air Command, Arnold Air Society, and the A.F.R.O.T.C. Drill Team enlivened the crowded schedule. The Honorary Colonel and court of the Military Ball also came from the ranks of Angel Flight.

THE ORIENT HONORS...

The nine faculty people recognized here have been chosen by a faculty committee, a student committee, and members of the 1958 ORIENT staff. It is felt that they are representative of those people who have contributed not only toward the "growth" of Ball State, but also to the intellectual, physical, emotional, and social growth of students. They are individuals who know "Ball State Forty Years After . . ."

Combining for ecenamy, the three clubs represented here are really individual organizations, each with its own activites, purposes, and sponsors. Needless to say, the ane goal that all have in ccommon is the encouragement of fellowship and leadership among the participants.

The Math Club had a full schedule in sponsoring two picnics for its enthusiastic members as well as having a joint meeting with the Muncie Technical Society and co-sponsoring a guest speaker for the college on the topic, "Viruses." In addition, monthly meetings were conducted with speakers discussing mathematical subjects.

The Science Club also was busy in preparing several interesting programs this year. Not only outside speakers, but also students themselves participated in pointing out the various fields of science. Among the more outstanding subjects presented was one member's experiences as a park naturalist at McCormicks Creek State Park and another's observations during his sixteen trips over the South Pole with the U. S. Air Force.

One of the purposes of the Geography Club is to help the student create and maintain an interest in the field of geography and earth science. Among the diverse activities of the group is the annual field trip enjoyed by all who attended.

B CLUB

This group of varsity lettermen was organized in 1955 as a service organization. In order to promote sportsmanship in athletics and to be of service to the college, B Club participated in several activities. The group ushered at school events; sponsored the Cardinal and White Day for promising high school athletes; sponsored the A. A. U. basketball tourney, and the Jaycee basketball tourney; and helped sponsor the athletic banquet in the spring.

Among the many intramural activities sponsored by this group, are: modern dance, bowling, swimming, tennis, tumbling, basketball, and other sports. In addition to providing many opportunities for fun and exercise, W. R. A. sponsored 'Sportsdays' for other colleges and awarded sweaters and letters at its annual banquet.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION MAJORS AND MINORS

The most significant activity of PEMM this year was the High School Play Day held in March. Approximately sixty girls from schools in Indiana attended. The objective of this event, which lasts all day, is not to compete but rather to socialize and play.

This was but one of the several activities which characterize the work of this organization which has among its objectives the development of cooperation among its members and the promotion of a better understanding of the field of physical education.

LIBRARY SCIENCE CLUB

Books, books, and yet more books! Such is the cry of the members of the library science club. This is just one facet of the interests and activities of the group, however, the club meets once a month to discuss and learn the variety of materials, techniques, and sources available to students and future librarians.

In addition to these activities, there are many social events for the purpose of helping the members to become better acquainted. The yearly social program includes a picnic, a White Elephant sale, and a Christmas Tea.

CLAVIA

One of Ball State's outstanding women's organizations is the senior women's honorary, Clavia. It is the constant interest of this group to strengthen the values of individual students in the light of service, fellowship, and scholarship; to act in leadership, and to encourage new interest in the goals of education at large.

The scholastic requirement of a 3.00 grade average and the further essential of maintaining a position within the upper third of the junior class, are some of the important pre-requisites of membership. All of Clavia's activities, such as class officer workshops, a Freshman Scholarship Breakfast, and the Homecoming Alum Breakfast reflect the continual interest in various phases of a dynamic program.

More recent to the list of accomplishments on Clavia's roster is the construction and selling of the red and yellow felt Ball State Cardinals. Each cardinal is an animated symbol of co-operation between the leadership of this group and the spirit of students toward Ball State Teachers College.

Joy Kean (Vice-President), Beverly Baker, Fay Follett (Secretary), Lois Schumm (President), Mary Long Jennings (Treasurer), Janie LaRowe, Judy Hanagan.

BLUE KEY

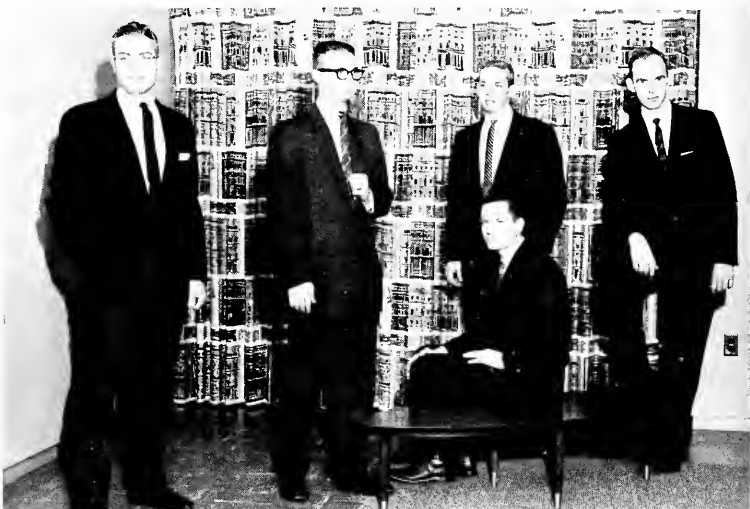

Striving to select only those men worthy of the honor, Blue Key is one of our most selective men's honoraries. Blue Key was founded at Ball State Teachers College in 1932 and since that date has successfully supported its goal of service to the student body.

Men are selected for membership into this organization who have displayed unusually good faculties for service and leadership, in addition to possessing fine character. Maintaining a scholastic ratio sufficiently above the all men's average is also a qualification for membership.

Interest in service led Blue Key members in the selling of Homecoming Buttons as well as the sponsoring of our annual Blue Key Sweetheart Ball. From these two highly successful ventures, scholarships were created and deserving students granted a welcome financial aid. Continuing in service to Ball State, Blue Key joined Clavia in sponsoring and supporting High School Senior Day.

Bradley Neal, Glenn E. Hydnman (seated), Bill Marohn (Vice-President), Bill Click, Steve Kosanovich (Treasurer), (absent, Bill Wiggins, Mike Prosser).

DELTA PHI DELTA

Organized on January 10, 1909 at the University of Kansas, Delta Phi Delta has a nucleus of dedicated art majors. Proposing to promote art in the United States, to recognize scholarship and professional ability, and to foster true friendship, this group has three major activities on campus.

Under the sponsorship of Dr. Alice Nichols and Dr. Roberta Law, Delta Phi Delta succeeded in giving the Children's Fair, in participating in the Sidewalk Sale at Homecoming, and the sale on Blenko Glass.

To be eligible for membership in Delta Phi Delta, an art major must be a sophomore with above average scholarship and a willingness to work. Two groups of worthy pledges joined the group this year.

KALLISTA

Sponsored by Lucia Mysch, Kallista is the oldest organization on Ball State's campus. Membership in this organization is extended to all art students. Kallista has as its annual project an Art Auction at which time the public is invited to bid on art pieces which the Kallista members have completed during the preceding year. The proceeds from the auction go towards the Susan Train Scholarship, which is given to a deserving art student in the name of the former head of the art department.

SIGMA TAU DELTA

Established at Ball State by Dr. Paul Royalty, Sigma Tau Delta serves as a means of recognizing students who have attained outstanding achievement in the field of English.

In addition to this, however, another important function is performed — that of publishing STET which consists of literary contributions of Ball State students. The monthly meetings of this organization also feature guest speakers and discussions of authors and their works.

Sigma Alpha Eta is a national professional society for speech and hearing majors. Alpha Psi chapter was installed on the Ball State campus on May 28, 1956. It is the thirty-fifth chapter of the national organization, the only other Indiana chapter being at Purdue University. The sole purpose is to provide a medium for enriched professional and social experiences through its extra-curricular activities. Honoring students seeking professional training in therapy fields, Sigma Alpha Eta also assists youngsters with speaking or hearing handicaps.

THE TENT

THE LITTLE SHOESTRING THEATRE

The Summer of 1957 saw the first season of the Little Shoestring Theatre at Ball State Teachers College. For twenty-five years Muncie's Civic Theatre and for thirty-six years Ball State Teachers College's Spotlight Theatre had presented the Muncie and Delaware County community with a regular nine month season of entertainment. A need was felt for a continuation of this entertainment medium during the summer months.

With the increasing popularity of the tent theatre, it was thought that this medium might add a quality of uniqueness to such a project. With this in mind Spotlight Theatre agreed to sponsor a summer theatre project.

The following plays were selected for presentation: "The Solid Gold Cadillac," "Ah, Wilderness!" "The Ponder Heart," and "— But Not Goodbye." Dr. E. S. Strother, director of Spotlight Theatre and associate professor of English directed the theatre.

INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS CLUB

The International Relations Club was officially organized last spring to help promote friendly relations among students of different national backgrounds, better understanding of all cultures, exchange of ideas, and an atmosphere of world brotherhood within the school and the community.

Among the 16 countries represented are: British West Indies, China, Egypt, England, Hawaii, India, Indonesia, Iran, Italy, Japan, Korea, Netherlands, Philippines, Puerto Rico, Thailand and United States. All members are regularly registered students, members of the faculty and staff of Ball State.

The club's outstanding achievement was an International Festival which was held in the Student Center Ballroom in February. Members from each country had elaborate displays of their country, including native costumes, musical instruments, jewelry, maps, charts and pictures. Music of the various countries was played throughout the day, and students were on hand to answer the questions that visitors asked.

PI GAMMA MU

Pi Gamma Mu was founded in 1924 by Dean Allen of Southwestern College and Dean Hamilton of the College of William and Mary. At this time, eighteen charter chapters were simultaneously organized. At the present time, Pi Gamma Mu has over one-hundred active chapters and more than fifty thousand members. The Indiana Gamma chapter was organized in 1931 on this campus and is affiliated with the Ball State social science department.

The most outstanding activity of Pi Gamma Mu is its public service project. The purpose of this is to have the organization either present a meeting or conference dealing with some special problem or render some distinct social service to the community, county, nation, or world during the college year.

To improve scholarship in the social studies, to inspire social service to humanity, and to engender sympathy toward others with different opinions by a better mutual understanding are the purposes of Pi Gamma Mu. Each student candidate for election to membership must have had at least thirty-two quarter hours in social science with a scholastic average both in social science and throughout the college of not less than "B".

One of the most thought-provoking topics of discussions has always been that of politics—and with this statement, the Young Republicans heartily agree! This year has been quite significant for the members of this organization which serves as a forum for the discussion of political questions of the day. The high point of the year was a talk given by Congressman Harvey at one of their meetings.

Next year, however, since it is an election year, may prove to be even more interesting for the Young Republicans who will doubtlessly campaign wholeheartedly for their party. One of their services to the campus and the community will be the sponsoring of programs which will bring the various election issues before the eyes of the voter.

Pi Omega Pi has the distinction of having been the first honorary to be established on this campus. This honorary, which is affiliated with the business department was created to give local students and teachers of Business Education an opportunity to affiliate with similar organizations; to create fellowship among the students in the department; to promote interest in business education; to further business education at Ball State and in Indiana; to aid in civic betterment; and to teach the ideal of service in business and professional life among students and alumni.

The local Chi Iota chapter, which is a part of a national organization of ninety-nine chapters, engages in many activities throughout the year. Some of these activities were: the giving of Christmas food baskets to worthy families in cooperation with the Commerce Club; helping with the registration at the Business Education Conference in the fall and at the Meeting of Future Business Leaders of America.

In an effort to help the various business students become more familiar with their particular phase of the field, the 1957-58 Commerce Club dispensed with the established procedures of a monthly meeting. Instead a schedule of one meeting a quarter was initiated and supplemented by several special meetings that appealed to students in each career field.

Completing its annual Christmas Collection Drive for those in need, Commerce Club continued its activities by joining with Pi Omega Pi and Delta Pi Epsilon and initiated a Spring Awards Banquet for the Business Department. Held in the Student Center Ball Room on April 30th, the banquet afforded an opportunity for several awards and scholarships to be presented as well as a speech by an outstanding business leader.

The two-year secretarial program is designed for individuals who wish to complete a short intensive program of preparation as secretaries or office specialists in a two-year period. Students enrolled in this program take regular college classes but with concentration upon courses in the secretarial area. PHI Upsilon OMICRON

Phi Upsilon Omicron is one of the newer honoraries on campus, having been installed at Ball State in April, 1956. The purposes of the organization are to establish and strengthen bonds of friendship among its members, to promote the moral and intellectual development of its members, and to advance and promote Home Economics.

This year Phi Upsilon Omicron's activities were many and varied. The group made sewing articles which were used at Ball Memorial Hospital; sponsored professional talks in grooming, home life in a foreign country, and professional attitudes in teaching at their regular meetings. Phi Upsilon Omicron also sponsored a reception for junior home ec. majors and critic teachers from the county, and entertained freshmen home economics majors with a dessert party. Not only did the organization gain enjoyment and opportunities for learning through its activities, it also made money by having a Christmas fruit cake sale and a chili supper.

The sage saying that too many cooks spoil the stew is not applicable to this group of home ec students who gather together in order to learn more about their field. Naturally, many of the meetings of this group center around activities related to home economics.

This busy year has contained discussions of flower arrangements spinning and weaving, and gas cooking. Also a chili supper was held in October; seniors were initiated into the Indiana Home Economics Association; delegates were sent to the State Teachers Association and the Indiana Home Economics Association Convention which was held at Indiana State Teachers College; and members were guests at a tea given by Miss Beeman. Club members also heard an illustrated talk given by Miss Mysch about her European tour.

In addition to all of this, the group also contributed to the International Scholarship Fund which is sponsored by the American Home Economics Association — and so ran the agenda of what must have been an extremely active and profitable year for the cooks of Mary Beeman.

One of the oldest honoraries, Epsilon Pi Tau continued to serve the interests and activities of the industrial arts majors. During the year, the thirty-six active members managed to participate in initiations, banquets, and various programs pertaining to research, leadership, and social efficiency.

In addition to requiring a major in industrial arts, Epsilon Pi Tau also insisted that prospective members have a grade average of 3.0 or better in industrial arts, an all college average of 2.5, enrollment in the teaching curriculum and the approval of campus members.

Since the organization is closely associated with the Industrial Arts Department, many activities of the group were connected with that field. Conferences played a major part in these departmental projects.

A steak fry held in the spring was one of the main events of the year. At this get-together, the faculty members played the students in a softball game, the senior award was presented; and new officers were installed.

Greeks In Potpourri

STRAY GREEKS

Approved as a social organization by S.E.C. in 1957 was this composite of men and women coming from schools in four states and representing over twelve national sororities or fraternities not found on our campus.

United not under one symbol or combination of Greek letters, but by a main purpose this group is steadily growing in number and spirit. This purpose is to assist transfer students affiliated with Greek social sororities and fraternities not represented at B.S.T.C. in attaining a full and well-rounded social life, and to aid other social affiliates in maintaining an outstanding social community.

Engaged in the same activities as the established sororities and fraternities on our campus, they further their purpose by holding a tea for all transfer students and providing a Christmas food basket for a needy family.

A Lyre of Welcome

"Remember, every woman is invited" was the greeting of the Alpha Chis as we prepared our annual Yuletide tea. Both student and faculty women were charmed and entertained by the selections presented by the Ball State Women's Chorus. Individual numbers as well as piano arrangements helped to complete the festive event. An annual occasion, we take special pride in giving the holiday tea.

Other projects were completed during the year, many of which we look forward to with great expectation and enthusiasm. Competition is always keen among the sororities of Ball State Teachers College when engaging in the various events on campus, and we join in the fun and work with a willing spirit. None, however, is "so dear to our hearts" as the Alpha Chi Omega Annual Yuletide Tea.

Enchantment-A Rose in View

The court of Alpha Omicron Pi was the scene of a bevy of activity in 1957-58. Following rush, the pillars of the realm helped co-sponsor the first formal dance of the winter season, "Royal Enchantment." Flooded with blue lights and crowned with whirling couples, the dance floor was indeed a picture of enchantment.

The "AOPi girls" added color and zest by taking part in the pageantry of events on Ball State's campus. Our candidate for a "Knight To Remember" was dubbed Sir Knight at the turn-about dance. "Dan Cupid", a rapt advocate of romance, was duly served by the "Singing Valentines" on that celebrated February holiday.

Having no crest, the court of Alpha Omicron Pi has the red rose recognition symbol. This colorful emblem appeared frequently in our activities. Studies, philanthropic work, social events — all were included in the AOPi court of 1957-1958.

A Special Hour

Each Saturday morning at approximately nine forty-five, the scent of fresh coffee came drifting from the Alpha Sigma Alpha suite over the ground floor of Rogers Hall. When zero hour (ten o'clock) arrived, we quietly filed into the suite sleepy-eyed and wearing pajamas, robes, and slippers, we lined up for hot coffee and donuts. After the first few sips of the brew, our eyes opened and smiles appeared. Congeniality reigned as we relaxed and enjoyed television.

In addition to our coffee hour, we enjoyed numerous other moments of friendship and fun. From gathering in the "Castle" to selling "turtles" in the halls, we continued to strengthen our "special" feeling in Alpha Sigma Alpha.

A Busy Busy Time

Snow — carols — Christmas — spell the enchantment of the month of December. During this season, Alpha Sigma Tau had an additional "Fascination" in the dance which we co-sponsored with the Delta Chi fraternity. The beauty of the decorations and the music of Phi Mu Cru certainly lent charm to the evening.

As the months sped by and activities and projects filled our schedule, we grew steadily in the feeling of fellowship and unity. Without warning, we suddenly realized that the year was at an end. In looking back, we found "Fascination" an apt summary of our 1957-58 school life.

A Harmony of Events

With a musical year in mind, the Chi O's planned to save pennies to purchase a piano for the suite. A high note was hit during homecoming when our float, "I-cy Victory", placed first in the sorority float competition. As our activities developed, our fund of pennies grew steadily, too.

Then . . . the Chi O symphony took form and was brought to a memorable cadence with the spring dinner-dance and party. The composition, however, would never have been complete without "Chi Omega Yours Forever" finally played on our long sought spinette. Our song was the traditional finishing touch to Chi Omega musical year.

Foundation for the Future

We, of Delta Chi, began our journey in the life of the national fraternity of Ball State's campus life this year. February found the officers of our national at Ball State to install our chapter into their fraternity system. We are proud to be the eighth national Greek fraternity on campus.

We are quite enthused about our accomplishments in our short life as a Delta Chi chapter. Our first big fete came with the securing of our new chapter room. We then received the scholarship trophy which could be termed the paramount of our first few months.

At the beginning of winter and spring quarters, we held a welcoming party for new students of the campus. Our aim was to acquaint them with Ball State — classes, activities, everyday happenings — its life.

This year the foundation was laid and the material gathered. Now, the building process begins.

A Year to Remember

With the light from our lamps to guide us, Delta Zeta blazed and followed a highly successful path throughout this year. Beginning last summer at our retreat cabin on Lake Wawasee, we spent our time in swimming, late hours, sunbathing, water skiing, pizza parties at the Villa, and a little work — if we were forced.

With the start of school our thoughts turned to the various activities and projects awaiting our enthusiasm and support. The year brought many happy, exciting, and varied events with the foremost being the crowning of the Homecoming Queen and Topsy Turvy Doll. Placing first in the Variety Show competition added much to our path through 1957-58. To be sure, it was a "year to remember."

Service-A Good Start

Being the "baby" of the feminine Greek family is an exciting and adventuresome position. Delta Sigma Theta found that by joining in activities and events on campus we soon solidated our role as the youngest sorority.

As our first community project we held a Christmas party for needy children at Longfellow School. The fun and pleasure that resulted from our initial step of service encouraged us to continue growing and working. We hope that this is only the first of many such events to come.

Not Sputnik--Whatnow--Whatnik

"Training for Leadership" was the theme for Kappa Alpha Psi this year. In following this idea, members participated in a leadership conference held at the University of Illinois.

Keeping abreast with worldly happenings, the men of our chapter used the title of "Sputnik" for their combined Christmas and winter closed dance.

Kappa Alpha Psi men donated their talents at the various school functions. The men using their fine ability in singing voices provided many moments of enjoyable entertainment — "rock an' roll" as well as the standards.

Delta Iota chapter had other memorable and worthy events. A year of smokers, parties after various campus activities, and closed dances highlighted the year.

Variety Show Plus

Activity was again a predominant factor to be found in Kappa Sigma Kappa fraternity. The one event which drew most attention to the campus was that of sponsoring the eighth annual "Variety Show" and awarding first place to Delta Zeta and Lambda Chi Alpha.

Our fraternity does not, however, limit its efforts to variety shows alone. This year our intra-mural golf team carried back the winner's title.

At Thanksgiving time we featured a turkey dinner plus entertainment for the children at the Delaware County Children's Home. Around Christmas gifts and fun were provided for those living at the Delaware County Home.

Open house for Parent's Day, for dates at various times throughout the year, and our spring closed dance helped bring this year to a good end.

Banners of the Men in Blue

Iota Alpha chapter of Lambda Chi Alpha began its year in August as we were chosen by our national to host the 1957 Lambda Chi Alpha Seminar. We met brothers from all states as well as Canada and the spirit of our fraternity grew within each of the participating men.

The men of our chapter found the 1957-1958 year a banner year. We began the year by placing second in both the float and house decoration competition at Homecoming. Seven of our men combined their talents to cop the all-school splashketball championship.

Winter quarter found five members in Blue Key and four men elected into Who's Who Among Students in American Colleges and Universities. "Requiem" won the annual Variety Show and "Bike-A-Thon," with proceeds going to the Magnabosco Memorial Fund, was held for the seventh consecutive year.

Another Home, 704 Riverside

Phi Sigma Epsilon purchased a new fraternity house at 704 Riverside and thus became the third Greek organization in the immediate area. The two-story, twelve room structure will be the second home of the Tau chapter and will house twenty-five men. Mrs. Goldie B. Harris will serve as housemother for the Phi Sigs. Mrs. Harris is the mother of a former Phi Sig president, Bill Harris.

The fifth annual Ron Garber Memorial Scholarship Fund flower sale was conducted in conjunction with Parents Day. All proceeds go toward paying the tuition of a Ball State student and into a fund for the daughter of Ron Garber.

"Casanova Capers" annually conducts the first male popularity contest on campus. Wayne Campbell, president, also served as president of Blue Key and Dick Moster was co-chairmen of this year's Campus Chest.

A Stage for Tradition

Our year was one with the spotlight centered upon highlights and traditions of Pi Beta Phi. Act I was a formal banquet in honor of our Grand National Secretary during her official visit to our chapter. During Act II, the pledges were presented at the Pledge Dance in January, and the crowning of the Orient Queen was dramatized. Our formal dinner dance and annual senior banquet were on stage as the curtains drew to a close in Act III.

Throughout our stage of 1957-58, we progressed in unity of purpose and strength of performance. "Cookie-Shines", Pi Phi Nights, and candle ceremonies were some of the traditions which rounded out the various scenes of our three act year.

Modern--An Inspiration for Action

Surrounded by the white interior of our modernistic suite, Sigma Kappa aspires to high ideals and worthy goals. Besides participating in numerous campus events, we also carried on an active philanthropic program.

The purpose of our organization is to promote harmony in the principles of life. In pledge training, as in all of our campus activities, we stress this purpose and strive to incorporate it into the structure of everything we do.

The advancement of our purpose is most clearly shown in our contributions for the relief work that Sigma Kappa supports on the Maine Sea Coast. By joining other chapters in this project, our members learn by first-hand experience the reward that goes with giving.

Mighty Are the Men

In all-school competition, observers were aware of the efforts which we, the Sig Eps, put forth. In the Fall, Homecoming found us winning first in both the float and house decorations divisions. Other honors were achieved in the area of intra-murals and the flag football, basketball, and swimming titles were annexed by our chapter. February found us too, capturing second place in the Kappa Sigma Kappa Variety Show.

On our roster of firsts, will be found trade dinners. This plan includes twenty Sig Eps and twenty women from a residence hall exchanging places for dinner. The 1957-1958 school year is one that will not be forgotten.

Stripes--a Successful Venture

Launching our year with a splash, the Tri Sigs planned and executed a very successful Topsy Turvy Tavern. As host to a crowd of Ball Staters, we managed to organize the various skits for presentation and to crown the lovely Topsy Turvy Doll. Because we were so successful in our first endeavor of the year, we were encouraged to strive for continual attainment.

In addition to projects, relaxation is a necessary part of our routine. Saturday morning breakfast in our suite is a life-saver for those Tri Sigs who like an extra hour of sleep and still want to eat the early morning meal. It's not quite breakfast in bed, but we come in our pajamas to sing, play bridge or euchre, and work while enjoying hot coffee and rolls. Even more fun is the sharing of the suite with our new Sigma pledges.

At 707 Riverside

Sigma Tau Gamma purchased the Harry Maxim residence on Riverside Avenue and the house, with its circle drive, spacious land, and basketball court soon proved to be our home at Ball State. Spending the first year in our new abode found us having open house for all the campus and community to visit and see.

Jack Teagarden was brought to campus for our annual Jazz Concert. All those in attendance will verify that "Big T" is among the "greats" in the entertainment field. Once again Sig Tau sponsored the March of Dimes for the Ball State campus as well as the downtown Muncie collection. All proceeds were turned over to the city chairman.

Again we have served the campus, community and ourselves.

Warning from the Red Coats

In all activities this year, our sixth on campus, we have tried as always to live up to our motto — "Alma mater first and Theta Chi for alma mater."

This Homecoming was the first time in years that the men of Theta Chi did not walk off with first place honors. We wish to congratulate the winners, but warn them that we are rebounding to capture that honor next year.

Delta Kappa chapter was judged first in the Campus Chest walking float competition. The cash prize was turned back to Campus Chest as another Theta Chi donation.

In addition to participating in all campus-wide fraternity events, we once again co-sponsored the "French Cabaret" with the Alpha Chis. "Bowery Ball" again highlighted the spring season and our annual spring dance put an end to another great year.

SIGMA BETA TAU

Activity--the Core of the Program

Starting with the Homecoming Parade and Tea, Pi Kappa Sigma begins its whirl of activity. Much co-operation among our membership enables us to take an active part in the campus life of B. S. T. C. Participation in the variety shows draws us even closer together as we strive to perform with unity.

During Spring Quarter, the Sorority-Fraternity Sing on Parent's Day occupies our time and efforts. Interest also rises in the spring when our thoughts turn to the annual Spring Formal. A closed date, this event is enthusiastically anticipated because our awards are presented at this time.

At the end of the school year, our activities draw to a close and vacation arrives to refresh and rest us for the coming year.

Phi Mu was a co-sponsor of the annual Parents Day Sing, and also sponsored a Founders Day Recital, a Homecoming Alumni Banquet, a "C" date dance, an American Day Recital, and a Christmas party for the underprivileged children of Muncie. Requirements for membership in the women's music honorary are a 3.0 point ratio in music courses, a 2.5 accumulative ratio, and outstanding talent as a musician.

Many of the activities of Sigma Alpha Iota are co-sponsored with "Phi Mu." The two honoraries sponsored a Christmas party for underprivileged children, a "C" date dance, and the Sing which was held on Parent's Day.

The Ball State Orchestra program comprises the full symphonic orchestra and several related smaller organizations. The string orchestra, for example, is featured annually together with selected high school students, in the "String Day" presentation of a massed Indiana String Choir. One or more Sinfoniettas are used in connection with such varied enterprises as the annual College-Community Christmas Festival, the annual Concerto Night, and the newly developed Ballet Theater.

In addition to its home concerts — including the "Symphony on the Green," which features student conductors — the orchestra is usually heard each season in off-campus performances ranging from appearances before major professional groups such as the Music Educators National Conference to brief tours of Indiana high schools.

BALL STATE BAND

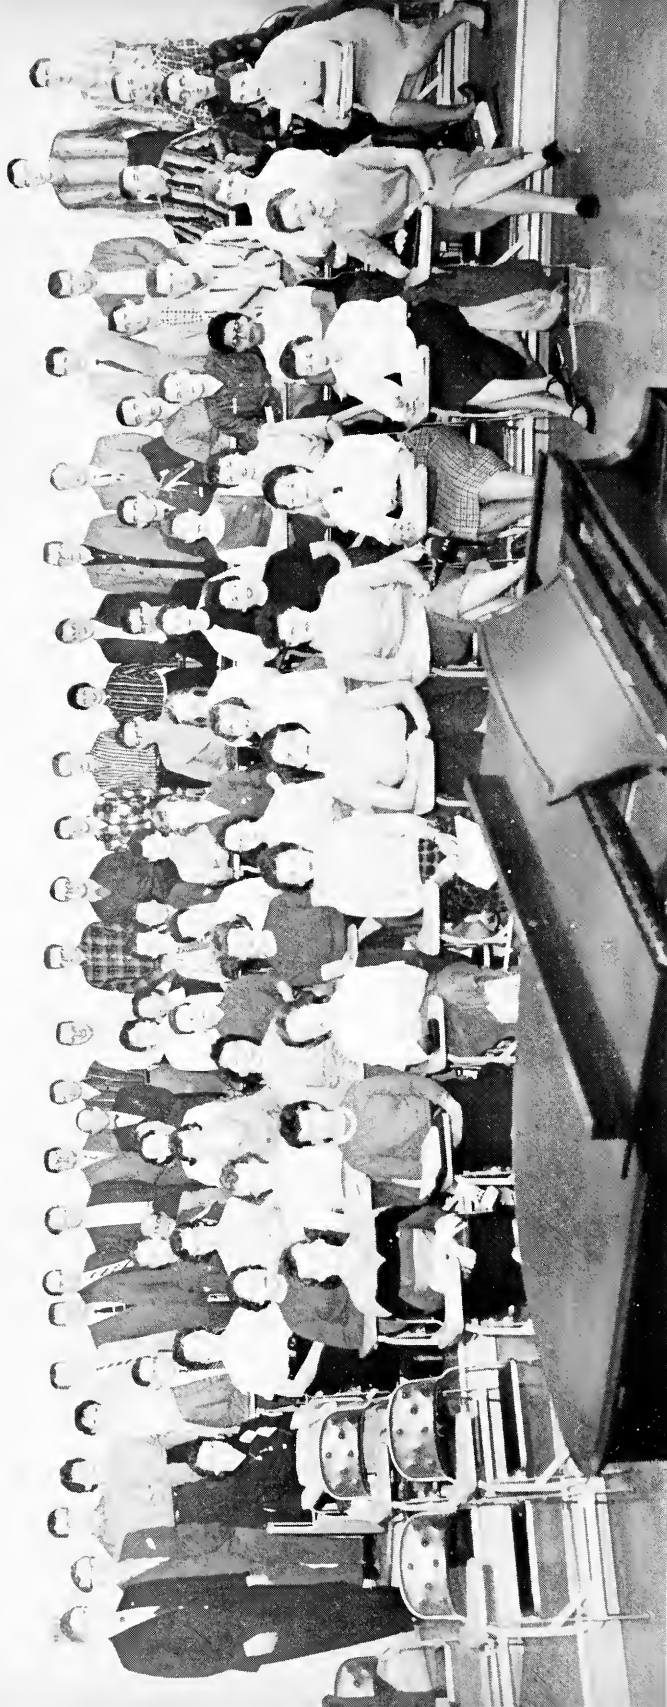

The Ball State Band, in addition to performing and marching for various football and basketball games at home and away, includes on its agenda other functions. The band sponsors the "Sight Reading Band for the Indiana School Music Association Music Contest." In addition to these things, the "Twilight Concert" is an annual spring occasion.

SYMPHONIC WIND ENSEMBLE

The 1957-1958 year has proved a busy one for those participating in this musical group. Many hours of practice and preparation are necessary before the presentation of any concert. Three programs were conducted of special interest and they included one of the contemporary American Music, the winter concert, and finally commencement. In addition to these on campus shows, the wind ensemble has made appearances in nearby towns and cities.

DREAMS COME TRUE

WAGONER HALL

Wagoner Hall for men greeted 382 old and new Ball State students with its official opening, Fall, 1957. Open house and a dedication dance started the school year off with a swing and the newly-elected officers took charge of organizing their many activities. These included trade parties with the women's residence halls, intramural sports, homecoming, parties for the holidays, and social events within the residence hall itself.

Eight senior student advisors led the men in their organized "bull sessions" and provided any help that might be needed to make Wagoner Hall their dream come true as a home away from home.

There Goes An Elliott Man

For the first time in many years, Elliott Hall had plenty of breathing room. The completion and opening of the other men's residence hall on campus helped to do away with that almost traditional over crowded feeling on fourth floor in the fall.

Since Elliott houses men, its activities include those which requires the strength of a Spartan athlete. For many of the freshmen, engagement in flag football, splasket-ball, basketball, bowling, and softball proved to be the "acid test." For refinement, however, the men took on a gentler nature and treated their dates with care at their annual closed dance. Parents Day proved too, to mom and dad that the "boys" were "gettin some learnin'" at Ball State.

Moments to Remember

NORTH HALL

With the first day of arriving at an end, the residents of North Hall settled down and became a unit of friendship and loyalty. Although inhabited primarily by freshmen, the hall soon "jumped into numerous campus activities."

The officers had a new experience in planning activities and all of the residents felt a closer bond between themselves as they worked to complete a schedule.

By spring, all of the women of North Hall had many good times to remember and laugh about.

Surplus Put To Use

The United States Navy dismissed South Hall, sent it to Bunker Hill, and Ball State took it as a surplus and uses it for a women's dormitory. Since 1947, South Hall has been invaded every year by Ball State students.

After election of officers, activities were numerous. For women who had surplus energy, there were homecoming activities, Christmas celebrations, a Thanksgiving project, spring tea, and many unorganized parties in which to participate.

Love That Lucina Life

LUCINA HALL

The annual "Lucina At Home" is a high point for every resident of Lucina. Not only the residents, but also the guests look forward to the festive event with great anticipation. Usually held in the spring of the year, formal invitations are sent to the visitors. Welcome guests may inspect the rooms of the women at leisure and enjoy themselves later with refreshments in one of the two lounges.

Newly purchased during winter quarter, the hi-fi was a widely used addition to the hall. Many hours of pleasure and enjoyment were derived from the "music box" melodies.

Thanksgiving and Christmas Vespers are always a "must" on the list of activities as well as the Heart and Dart Party on Valentine's Day. Busy with studies and activities, Lucina women completed the school year of 1957-58.

We All Love Parties

Brady Hall started the school year off right with vigorous campaigning and then elections. In addition to studies and homecoming, the party for visitors followed shortly afterwards. Then, with a fast approach, came a Halloween party, Thanksgiving Vespers, and Christmas activities which included the traditional "hanging of the greens."

After a short recess came the Valentine's Day party, a children's party, a reception for parents, and last but not least — the Senior Brunch.

Welcome Funny Face

CROSLY HALL

Crosley Cuties welcomed funny faces at their annual Halloween Party. Each resident dressed for the occasion and prizes were given to those with the most original costumes. This, however, was only one of the parties that was held. Homecoming, Christmas, and Valentine's Day were all celebrated by a gathering of the "clan".

Besides having fun, the Crosely "cuties" had their serious moments. Helping with Campus Chest is a yearly occurrence that is supported heartily. Vespers were planned for such special events as Easter, Christmas, and Thanksgiving.

Before the year was over, all of the residents had participated in some hall activity.

Talent Required Here

Rogers Hall, one of the wings in the Woodworth Residence Hall, sponsors an annual talent show, euchre, ping pong, and bridge tournament for its residents. The winner of the euchre tournament and the talent show have their names engraved on the permanent trophy displayed in the lounge.

A recently purchased hi-fi record player is one of their prized possessions and is put to use frequently not only by the residents but also their hall neighbors. Needless to say, many hours that will be remembered are the ones spent in fellowship with others while enjoying the "universal language" of music. The piano is another source of enjoyment and relaxation.

Get Out and Vote

WOOD HALL

The shout of "get out and vote" at Wood Hall's campaign parties and elections oriented new students into the campus life. New officers took over the organization of activities and the residence hall boomed forth with life.

Old friends gathered to talk of "old times" and the fun of last year's hall activities while the freshman women became acquainted with hall life.

Homecoming decorations received second place and the festive Christmas atmosphere cheered all who lived in Wood Hall. Activities ended with an April Fools party, and the Senior Brunch that is traditional in all residence halls.

Sally Smiley, Jo Young (Secretary), Marcia Conway (Vice-President), Virginia Shelby (Senior Rep.), Jo Crawford, Claudia Little (Treasurer).

Calling All Nurses

Being both a student and a performing apprentice at the Ball Memorial Hospital is a full time job for these "ladies in white." To carry such a demanding schedule, the student nurses have little time to spend on other activities.

Always a thrill, the Capping Service is the summit of a freshman nurse's year. The seniors are anxious for the spring graduation ceremony to arrive.

Full of the realization of the scope and seriousness of their profession, the nurses are preparing for a worthy career.

W. O. C. COUNCIL

This has been a year of expansion for A.W.S. which has added a new branch to its organization — W.O.C. (Women Off Campus). This new addition to A.W.S. was established in order to further the aims of the organization by helping off-campus girls feel more at home in campus activities and in order to increase fellowship among women students. Along with other activities A.W.S., also sponsors the "Big-Little Sis" program.

Religious Organizations

This organization is the hub of the wheel of religious groups at Ball State Teachers College. Composed of two representatives from each of the sixteen religious groups on campus, it has its own elected officers and appointed S. E. C. representative.

In furthering the goal of the development and expression of religious life on campus, the Religious Council meets twice a month to plan for three main events. In early fall, Know Your Church Night is a familiar Religious Council sponsored activity. Religious Emphasis Week gives the students on campus a chance to renew their faith and hear some excellent speakers. At the Thanksgiving Convocation, the student body joins with the Religious Council in a period of thankful worship.

ALBRIGHT-OTTERBEIN FELLOWSHIP

Uniting students who have a mutual faith is the reason for the beginning of the Albright-Otterbein Fellowship. Sponsored by the Evangelical United Brethren Church, the group is encouraged and guided by helpful sponsors.

This is the A. O.'s third year as a Ball State religious organization. Meetings are held each Sunday evening of the school year and programs have included guest speakers, panel discussions, BIBLE studies, and films. A major activity of this year's group has been the conduction of a Sunday evening service at the local church each month.

A core of much activity on campus, the new Baptist House is the center of varied activities. Not only does it provide a home for the student's minister, but it also gives shelter to a number of men students. This is an advantage because the Baptist House not only seems like a "home away from home," but is because it is lived in.

Sunday morning coffee hours, movies, and discussions are only a part of the contributions of the Baptist House to the students religious life.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE ORGANIZATION

ROW 1: Juanita Powers (Treasurer), David Hoppes, Cathy Johnson. ROW 2: Mildred McJilton (Sponsor), Marvin Hayes, Barbara Hammond (President).

Being an active participant in the religious life on campus is a full time job for the Christian Science Organization. Meeting weekly for discussions and services, the group is a small but closely knit branch of the Church of Christian Scientist.

One of the organization's annual projects is the sponsoring of a lecture on Christian Science. Mrs. Ella H. Hays of Indianapolis was the guest speaker at the event this year.

Another annual occasion takes place during the summer months. This year several members attended the world-wide workshop meeting in Boston for collegiate members. Outstanding addresses were heard by recognized leaders of the organization. Individuals returned to campus in the fall from this workshop with renewed interest and strengthened goals.

ROW 1: Mary Ann Naugle, Norma Jean Trout, Marjorie Reagan, Doris Bricker, Alice Neihardt, Lois Miller, Rita Horton. ROW 2: Fairy Palmer, Ruth Cunningham, Jerry Elmore, Carolyn John, Helen Fox, Larry B. Roberts, Margaret Hodgins, Mary Jo Blubaugh.

Born four years ago at near-by Hazelwood Christain Chrch, this group has grown steadily in number and activities. Its members are sincere in trying to live up to the purpose of D.S.F. — to grow in Christian faith as well as socially and intellectually.

To further the cause of D. S. F., the members work at many projects. Work camps and service projects, state and national conferences, as well as study groups and discussions are participated in together. Of course, recreation and coffee hours bring the feeling of unity even closer.

In February of this year, the dedication of the newly redecorated suite of rooms at the Hazelwood Fellowship House highlighted a fruitful year.

GAMMA DELTA

In 1934 delegates from twelve colleges and universities met and founded an international organization called Gamma Delta for Lutheran students. Twenty years later, the Ball State chapter was formed. Since that date, the local chapter has become a necessary part of the religious activities on campus.

The members of the group form a busy "hive." Sincere in purpose and dedicated to stimulating further interest, the Gamma Deltas draw students into their midst.

The Newman Club, the Catholic foundation at Ball State, had the pleasure of occupying their new student center this year. The building is equipped to help carry out the purpose of this organization and this is, to deepen the spiritual and enrich the temporal lives of the students by a balanced program of religious, educational and social activities.

WESLEY FOUNDATION

Situated in a new building, the members of Wesley Foundation have many activities in which to participate. W. F. uses its Fellowship Hall for frequent gatherings, and the door is never shut during the day or evening of a school week. The lounge is used for studying, playing records, or just plain talking. Supper prepared at the building, is a weekly must with enthusiastic members.

The people of this organization are noted for their week-end work camps. During these sessions, they may paint, build homes, remodel, or help out in a day nursery. It is their way of exercising a working faith and putting it to good use.

Opportunities to join in activities are many and varied. By these means the W. F. represents the Methodist Church at work on campus.

Open to all students, this organization is the student group of the Presbyterian Church. Active in several events, the Westminister Fellowship is constantly striving to fulfill its aims of witness, outreach, citizenship, fellowship, and faith.

Not only does it encourage activities within the Presbyterian Church, but it also includes many outside projects. Usually the foreign students on campus are given a party by Westminister Fellowship. The children at Delaware County Home are also remembered and feted to a party. Deputation teams give services and programs for various churches and homes.

In the spring, members are refreshed and revitalized by a retreat at Brownstown. There they renew and review their aims and purposes.

YMCA YWCA

Enthusiasm sparks the YM-YWCA organization on the campus. Varied in activities, it stresses the ideals of the symbolic Y Triangle — the individual growth in the physical, mental, and spiritual areas.

Including not only its own members in activities, the Ball State YM-YWCA also sponsors campus wide events. Prominent in this field was the Panel Of Americans from Purdue. Throughout the year the "Y" takes part in fireside discussions at various faculty homes, service projects, the Universal Day of Prayer, and Freshman Camp.

Alpha Phi Omega again exemplified this year its purpose, service. It has almost become a tradition at Ball State to see the men of this organization wearing their arm bands of yellow and gold ushering at many of the convocations. In addition to this well-known performance, Alpha Phi Omega spends much time working at Camp Red Wing, aiding in the betterment of this Boy Scout Camp.

Finally, the service of this group supercedes national boundaries by sponsoring an annual "Books for Asia" drive.

YOU
ALUMNUS

As a Senior you will receive a complimentary membership in the Ball State Alumni Association for the duration of your graduation year. Thereafter an annual contribution to the alumni fund will renew your membership.

The Alumni Association sponsors several activities of interest to you during the year. The Homecoming luncheon, the President's Buffet and Open House in Indianapolis and Open House in Fort Wayne and South Bend during the ISTA convention, and the Alumni-Senior Day dinner and dance in June are annual events.

Make the Alumni Office your headquarters when you return to campus. The Director of Alumni Relations is your campus representative. Keep him posted on your where-about's after graduation so that you will continue to receive alumni publications.

By reading the Ball State Alumnus, the official alumni magazine, you will keep in touch with other alumni and with campus events. Issued in the fall, winter, and spring, the Alumnus brings you features and news by and about other alumni. Newsletters and information relative to Homecoming and other events are sent regularly to all alumni.

The Alumni Office maintains an up-to-date record of all alumni addresses. Your friends' addresses are available to you at any time. If you are entering the armed forces after graduation, the Alumni Office will send you copies of the Ball State News at your request.

It is!
It is yours
It is yours now.
We have thought.
We have thought it
We have thought it ours.
But it was
Was yours always.
(Only parts were.)

One may see but

So it is yours

Take it.
Don't take

What was (is?) not yours.
Those who deserve should

Please don't try.
